Cardozo Law Review's Annual Symposium

The Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, the Cardozo Law Review, and the Floersheimer Center for Constitutional Democracy are pleased to host a voter rights and electoral reform symposium. Inspired by the tumultuous 2020 presidential election, the conference brings together leading scholars and advocates to discuss the evolution of voter suppression laws, modern-day gerrymandering, and innovative strategies for electoral reform.

The symposium will be held on Thursday, January 27, 2022, over Zoom and will proceed in three parts:

- (1) The Evolution of Voter Suppression, at 10:15 a.m.
- (2) Redistricting After the 2020 Census: Gerrymandering and Misrepresentation, at 12:45 p.m.
- (3) Electoral Reform, at 2:30 p.m.
