Exploring NFTs: Opportunities and Intellectual Property Issues

Tuesday, November 16 at 6:00 p.m.

The world of non-fungible tokens (NFTs) and the technology involved is new and exciting. Innovation, however, is always met with new legal issues, and in this case, intellectual property issues. This panel will discuss the individual rights associated with and address the intellectual property issues inherent in NFTs. This panel will also explore the ways in which NFTs are being used in creative spaces, such as fashion, sports, entertainment, and gaming.

Moderator:

- Divya Taneja, Associate, Perkins Coie LLP

Panelists:

- Jeremy Goldman '05, Partner, Frankfurt Kurnit Klein & Selz
- Moish Peltz, Partner, Falcon Rappaport & Berkman PLLC
- Kurt Sohn '18, Associate, Davis+Gilbert LLP

This is a hybrid event with the option for attendees to join in person at Cardozo, room 424, subject to Cardozo campus policies, or join virtually via the Zoom link. In person attendance is restricted to members of the Cardozo Community only. The Zoom link will be provided to those registered on the date of the event.

This event is sponsored by the Cardozo Fashion Law Society.

Follow the Law, Break the Mold: An Interview with Sarah Feingold, Etsy's First General Counsel

Thursday, December 2 at 6:30 p.m.

Please join the FAME Center and the Cardozo Women Alumni Group for the last FAME event of the semester. Cardozo alumna, Carrie Maylor DiCanio '08, Managing Shareholder of Anderson Kill's Denver office, will moderate a virtual discussion with trailblazer Sarah Feingold.

Born an artist, Feingold decided the best way to protect creative folks like herself was to go to law school. She then cannonballed into the position of Etsy's first attorney and 17th employee. For over nine years Feingold helped Etsy scale from an inconspicuous startup to a publicly traded company. After that, she joined Vroom as its first General Counsel. In 2018, the New York Law Journal awarded Feingold with the GC Impact Award.

Feingold is still making waves, and helping others follow suit, as the creator / writer of the play, Dirty Legal Secrets (formerly known as Legal Madness), the co-founder of The Fourth Floor, and a Fellow of NYU Law School.

You can also find Feingold speaking, advising, eating candy, hammering silver, and chasing her child.

There will be a networking opportunity and chance to speak with Feingold after the presentation.

This event is sponsored by the Cardozo Women Alumni Group.
