

CARDOZO
Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

LARC @ Cardozo Law

Cardozo Law News Brief 2019

Cardozo Law News Brief

2-1-2019

Cardozo Law News Brief: February 1, 2019

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-briefs-2019>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, "Cardozo Law News Brief: February 1, 2019" (2019). Cardozo Law News Brief 2019. 4.

<https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-briefs-2019/4>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Cardozo Law News Brief at LARC @ Cardozo Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cardozo Law News Brief 2019 by an authorized administrator of LARC @ Cardozo Law. For more information, please contact larc@yu.edu.

A banner image for the Cardozo Law News Brief. It features a photograph of a city street with tall buildings and trees. The text 'CARDOZO LAW' is at the top in white. Below it, 'Cardozo Law News Brief' is written in a larger white font, followed by 'Spotlight on News from the Cardozo Community' in a smaller white font. A blue vertical bar is on the right side, and a blue horizontal bar is at the bottom.

CARDOZO LAW

Cardozo Law News Brief

Spotlight on News from the Cardozo Community

CAMPUS NEWS

Professor Jessica Roth Appears on MSNBC to Talk About the Roger Stone Indictment and Russian Hacking of Documents

Professor Jessica Roth weighed in on the Roger Stone indictment on MSNBC on January 25. "This is the missing piece of the puzzle that we've been looking for Mueller to lay out– the connection between the Trump campaign and WikiLeaks...this indictment lays out precisely how that was happening through Roger Stone."

Professor Roth appeared on MSNBC's Velshi and Ruhle on January 31 to discuss the issue of Russian hackers altering Mueller case documents and the protective order issued to prevent further tampering. "This way, lawyers are supposed to be able keep control of the information," she said.

Professor Sam Weinstein Quoted in Reuters

Professor Sam Weinstein spoke with Reuters about the integration of WhatsApp, Instagram and Facebook Messenger, and pointed out that integrating the messaging services could make it harder for antitrust regulators to break up Facebook. He said, "If Facebook is worried about that then one way it can defend itself is to integrate those services."

Professor Lindsay Nash Interviewed on WNYC about ICE and Local Police Departments

During an interview on WNYC, Professor Lindsay Nash said local police departments must be made aware that they cannot detain someone for immigration enforcement, as per a state appellate court ruling. She said, "It's critical for a police department that large to know how to implement the court's decision, how they have to change their practices. And frankly, the consequences of them not knowing the law and arresting someone without authorization are significant."

P*LAW Week 2019 Brought Local Leaders to Inspire Students

Cardozo's annual Public Law Advocacy Week took place at Cardozo Law from January 28 through 31. This year's programming covered topics such as efforts to ban LGBTQ conversion therapy, education, reproductive rights and changes in the landscape around immigration. Speakers included elected officials, housing advocates and a range of other public service representatives.

ITRANS Offers Transactional Skills Boot Camp for Law Students

Cardozo's ITRANS program, an innovative two-week immersion course in which students gain essential transactional skills needed for effective client representation, just completed its sixth year, with 31 students participating.

TALKS AND WRITINGS

- Professor Michel Rosenfeld will speak at a symposium called Antisemitism, Hate Speech and social media on February 5 at Columbia University's Italian Academy for Advanced Studies.
- Professor Christopher Buccafusco and Professor Jeanne Curtis will present on a panel titled Design Patents: A Discussion in Diversity at the Federal Bar Association's Fashion Law Conference on February 8 at The National Arts Club.
- Professor Christopher Buccafusco, Professor Michael Burstein and Professor Aman Gebru will present at the Works in Progress Intellectual Property Colloquium in Houston on February 8-9.

EVENTS

Visual Imagery and Human Rights: Book Talk

February 12, 2019

6 p.m.

Einstein-Cardozo Bioethics Program Annual Reunion and

The Gloria and Stanley Plesent Lecture:

A Discussion with Andrew Solomon

February 13, 2019

4 p.m.

Fix the Court: The New Movement for Non-Partisan Supreme Court Reform

February 13, 2019

12 p.m., Room 1008

Avoiding Ethical Pitfalls in Business

February 27, 2019

6 p.m.

2019 Distinguished Lecture in IP

February 28, 2019

6 p.m.

Russian Spies or Political Scapegoats:
The Trial and Execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg

March 19, 2019

4 p.m. screening, 6:30 p.m. panel