

Yeshiva University, Cardozo School of Law

LARC @ Cardozo Law

Cardozo Law News Brief 2020

Cardozo Law News Brief

3-23-2020

Cardozo Law News Brief: March 23, 2020

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2020>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, "Cardozo Law News Brief: March 23, 2020" (2020). Cardozo Law News Brief 2020. 9.

<https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2020/9>

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Cardozo Law News Brief at LARC @ Cardozo Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cardozo Law News Brief 2020 by an authorized administrator of LARC @ Cardozo Law. For more information, please contact christine.george@yu.edu, ingrid.mattson@yu.edu.

Campus News

Cardozo Law Holds First Virtual Admitted Students Day

Cardozo welcomed its newest admitted students through a "Virtual Admitted Students Day" via Zoom video conference on March 19.

"We are re-conceptualizing Admitted Students Day," said David Martinidez, Dean of Admissions. At its peak, the virtual event included more than 170 participants.

Professor Alex Reinert Quoted in United Press International About Solitary Confinement

Professor Alex Reinert was quoted in an article in United Press International regarding the case of a Pennsylvania inmate placed in solitary confinement after refusing to cut his dreadlocks. "Even when it's imposed for a short period, solitary confinement has a detrimental effect on a person's psychological and physical health, and as the time in isolation gets longer, the risk of harm increases," Reinert said.

Professor Deborah Pearlstein Writes in Just Security for Congress to be Able to Act Remotely

Professor Deborah Pearlstein wrote in Just Security about the idea of Congress working remotely: "Social distancing is essential to protect the health of lawmakers, their families, and their constituencies – and by extension the entire U.S. population...Congress is indispensable in setting a national example at a time when federal leadership has never been more important, or, tragically, less in evidence."