DAVID FEUERSTEIN '01 NAMED "RISING STAR" BY NEW YORK LAW JOURNAL

June 5, 2013

David Feuerstein: Partner, Herrick, Feinstein

David Feuerstein is a partner in Herrick, Feinstein's 80-member litigation department, representing public and private companies in state and federal court and in arbitration and mediation.

He handles class action defense as well as employment, real estate and commercial litigation. His clients range from real estate developers, hedge funds, Fortune 500 companies and individuals in matters ranging from contract disputes to government investigations.

Over the past year, David has represented hedge funds related to their investments in structured financial products, such as PIPEs and RDOs, and he has successfully handled a complex real estate litigation after mediation failed.

David also has developed a specialty in business divorce, a practice area in which Herrick has been a pioneer. Over the past year, David has helped three technology sector companies navigate messy business divorce proceedings, dividing assets totaling more than $25 million.

Pro Bono / Civic Work

David is spearheading Herrick's work with the Neighborhood Economic Development Advocacy Project's latest effort, the Partnership Project in Assisting Targets of Predatory Educational Institutes. This project addresses the growing legal need of low-income New Yorkers saddled with debts incurred from attending illegitimate trade schools that use students to exploit federal grant and loan programs.

He also works with Focus for a Future, a charitable organization that

"The best thing about being a lawyer is to have the opportunity to compete on a daily basis, to have your adversary come around to seeing your point of view." David Feuerstein
