Please join us for a Heyman Lunch Speaker Series event:

Antitrust in the Digital Era: An Introduction to Antitrust Law and Careers

Speaker: Professor Sam Weinstein, Cardozo School of Law

Date: Monday, March 19th, 2018

Time: 12:00 pm

Location: Rm 205

Lunch will be provided.

Please join us for a lunch talk with Professor Weinstein! Prof. Weinstein specializes in antitrust law, financial regulation, corporate law and the history of the regulatory state. He served as an attorney-advisor in the Legal Policy Section of the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice, and also served as Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Division. He began his career as a litigator at Munger, Tolles & Olson in San Francisco, after serving as a law clerk to Judge Edward R. Becker of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

This event is open only to the Cardozo community. If you register and can no longer attend, please let us know so that we have an accurate headcount for catering purposes.

Join the Cardozo Environmental Law Society and Professor Herz for a round table discussion on current environmental topics! The event will take place Monday, March 19th at 12pm in Room 211. A grand pasta lunch will be served!

Cardozo Students for Human Rights and Cardozo National Lawyers Guild are hosting a Fireside Chat with Professor Yankah today at 12:15 p.m. in Room 303. There will be a short, moderated discussion about the state of criminal law followed by a Q&A. Falafel lunch will be served!

Moot of Upcoming Argument in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals

Date: Tuesday, March 20, 2018

Time: 4:00 p.m.

Location: Room 206

Please join the Center for Rights and Justice and the Cardozo Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild for a moot of the upcoming argument in Edrei v. City of New York, a case about the NYPD's use a Long Range Acoustic Device (a/k/a Sound Cannon) at a Black Lives Matter demonstration, before the Second Circuit Court of Appeals this month. Gideon Oliver and Elena Cohen—attorneys for the Plaintiffs and former Presidents of the NYC Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild—will argue their case, Professor Ginsberg will play the role of the lawyer for the City of New York, and they will be judged by John Boston, former Director of the Legal Aid Society's Prisoners' Project, Rachel Meeropol, Senior Staff Attorney at the Center for Constitutional Rights, and Professor Alex Reinert. The moot will be followed by a Q&A with the advocates, Professors Betsy Ginsberg and Alex Reinert, and Keegan Stephan, a current Cardozo law student and one of the plaintiffs in the case.

Please contact Professor Alex Reinert if you have any questions. RSVPs are not required. Food and refreshments will be served.

By attending the moot, you agree to treat as confidential anything said during the session. If you are currently interning or working for the Corporation Counsel for the City of New York or the NYPD, you unfortunately may not attend.

Monday, March 26:

Periods Gone Public: Book Signing and Discussion Forum

4:00PM, Room 1008

Refreshments Will Be Served

In an otherwise treacherous political era for women’s bodies and health, activists and lawmakers are advancing a new, affirmative agenda—one that for the very first time meshes menstruation and public policy. From tax reform to public benefits to corrections policy, periods have become the surprising force fueling a high-profile, bipartisan movement.

Please join Cardozo Alumnae Congresswoman Grace Meng (NY-6), sponsor of the Menstrual Equity for All Act of 2017 (H.R. 972), and the Brennan Center for Justice’s Jennifer Weiss-Wolf, author of Periods Gone Public, to learn more about how this bill was developed, why the issue resonates across party lines, and what is next for “menstrual equity.”

Sponsored by the Women’s Law Initiative.

Before joining SocGen, Mr. McCabe served in various roles at Keybank Capital Markets, and J.P.Morgan, among other financial institutions and law firms.

*This event is part of the Compliance Speaker Series and will qualify towards the Compliance Concentration requirement.

This event is open only to the Cardozo community. If you register and can no longer attend, please let us know so that we have an accurate headcount for catering purposes.

Join Cardozo Law Institute in Holocaust and Human rights and the Indie Film Clinic for a film screening of "1945" on Wednesday, March 28 at 6:30 in Room 1008. After the film, join Indie Film Clinic Director, Michelle Greenberg-Kobrin and CLIHHR Director, Jocelyn Getgen-Kestenbaum for a conversation.

"1945" is a film about Orthodox man and his grown son return to a village in Hungary while the villagers prepare for the wedding of the town clerk's son. The townspeople - suspicious, remorseful, fearful, and cunning - expect the worst and behave accordingly. The town clerk fears the men may be heirs of the village's deported Jews and expects them to demand their illegally acquired property back. Director Ferenc Török paints a complex picture of a society trying to come to terms with the recent horrors they've experienced, perpetrated, or just tolerated for personal gain. A superb ensemble cast, lustrous black and white cinematography, and historically detailed art direction contribute to an eloquent drama that reiterates Thomas Wolfe's famed sentiment: you can't go home again.

Today at Cardozo –Friday, March 23, 2018
