Wednesday, March 17th, 12:00pm

For Questions, please contact Dan Jones.

The Family Law Society will be hosting a Know Your Rights training on March 17 from 12:00-1:15pm.

The Campus Advocates project represents and advocates on behalf of survivors in the Title IX System, Family Court System, and Criminal Justice System.

They give Know Your Rights trainings at various educational institutions, which delve into the rights each person has under the three most relevant and critical systems as related to incidents of gender-based violence. The trainings also help prepare students for entering the workforce to do this type of advocacy (i.e. understanding the law surrounding this area, the differences in the systems, etc.).

We hope to see all of you there!

Social Media Governance, Content Moderation, and Democracy

Date: Friday, March 19, 2021

Time: 12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Social media giants like Facebook have long governed their communities through a system of so-called “community standards,” or rules that dictate what users may say on their platforms. In November 2018, Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg announced that Facebook would construct an independent oversight body, launched within a year. The body, called the Facebook Oversight Board, was created to serve as a review system for user content and to make content moderation policy recommendations.

Amidst increasing calls for accountability in the face of political violence, it is critical to examine the role that social media governance can and should play in our democracy.

Speakers

Kate Klonick, Assistant Professor of Law, St. John’s University School of Law

Genevieve Lakier, Assistant Professor of Law, Herbert and Marjorie Fried Teaching Scholar,
University of Chicago Law School

Moderator: Felix Wu, Professor of Law and Faculty Director, Cardozo Data Law Initiative (CDLI), Cardozo Law School

This event is co-sponsored by the Floersheimer Center for Constitutional Democracy, the Heyman Center on Corporate Law and Governance, the Cardozo Data Law Initiative, and Cardozo Women in Tech Law.

This event is open to the public and free of charge, but registration is required.
