ISG 2019 Lemkin Award and Lecture

October 24, 2019 at 5:30PM in 1008

CLIHHR

The biennial Lemkin Award honors Raphael Lemkin, the originator of the term "genocide" and exponent of the UN Genocide Convention. The award recognizes the best non-fiction work focusing on genocide, crimes against humanity and other gross human rights violations, and on strategies of prevention.

This year's award recipient is Professor Geoffrey Robinson, Department of History at UCLA, for "The Killing Season: A History of the Indonesian Massacres, 1965-66." The Killing Season explores one of the largest and swiftest, yet least examined, instances of mass killing and incarceration in the twentieth century-the shocking antileftist purge that gripped Indonesia in 1965-66, leaving some five hundred thousand people dead and more than a million others in detention.

Introduction and comments by CLIHHR Director Jocelyn Getgen Kestenbaum (Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law); ISG President Joyce Apsel (NYU); and ISG Executive Director Ernesto Verdeja (University of Notre Dame).

The lecture will be followed by a question-and-answer session open to the audience, as well as a reception.

Co-sponsored by the Cardozo Law Institute in Holocaust and Human Rights (CLIHHR)
