

CARDOZO

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

LARC @ Cardozo Law

Cardozo Law News Brief 2017

Cardozo Law News Brief

10-27-2017

Cardozo Law News Brief: October 27, 2017

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2017>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, "Cardozo Law News Brief: October 27, 2017" (2017). Cardozo Law News Brief 2017. 19.

<https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2017/19>

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Cardozo Law News Brief at LARC @ Cardozo Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cardozo Law News Brief 2017 by an authorized administrator of LARC @ Cardozo Law. For more information, please contact larc@yu.edu.

Faculty

Professor Yankah Discusses on MSNBC President Trump's Response to Opioid Crisis

Professor Ekow Yankah spoke on MSNBC about President Trump's response October 26 to the opioid crisis: "What we heard from the president today was the combination of sympathy and real humanity ... so that is a wonderful step forward, but then all of the policies he suggested were sort of a replay from generations past."

NY Daily News* Interviews Professor Oberman on DA's Intent Rationale in Weinstein Case

The New York Daily News interviewed 10 legal experts - including Cardozo Professor Jonathan Oberman - about Manhattan District Attorney Cy Vance Jr.'s decision two years ago to not charge Harvey Weinstein after Ambra Battilana Gutierrez accused him of sexually assaulting her. In the article, Oberman said a jury would have found the required intent in this case.

Professor Herz Quoted in U.S. News & World Report on Careers in Administrative Law

Professor Michael Herz, Arthur Kaplan Professor of Law, told U.S. News & World Report that those who are detail-oriented and have strong interest in an area "where regulations are of paramount importance, such as environmental or labor policy," are best suited for administrative law.

Student News

Cardozo Student Samantha E. Smith '18 Represents Young Patients Needing Speech-Generating Devices

At a preliminary injunction on October 11 and 12, Cardozo School of Law student Samantha E. Smith '18 of the Bet Tzedek Civil Litigation Clinic represented a proposed class of New York State Medicaid beneficiaries who need speech-generating devices from Medicaid to enable them to communicate.

Events

Symposium: Rules For a Flat World With Gillian Hadfield

Monday, October 30

4 p.m.

Room 407

Diwali Dinner

Monday, October 30

6:30 p.m.

Third Floor Lounge

Will Contests And How To Avoid Them: The View From The Bench

Monday, October 30

5:30 p.m.

Room 206

Book Talk: The Chickenshit Club with Jesse Eisinger

Thursday, November 2

6 p.m.

Third Floor Lounge

Day-to-Day Life of a Real Estate Associate

Monday, November 6

12 p.m.

Room 407

Democracy Talks - Experts Discuss Gill v. Whitford

Monday, November 6

12 p.m.

Room 1008

Book Talk: Taxing the Church

Wednesday, November 8

6 p.m.

Jacob Burns Moot Courtroom

Ethics and Lawyering in the Age of Trump With Bradley Wendel

Monday, November 13

6 p.m.

Room 1008

Taking: The Intersection Between Colonialism and
Consent in Gender-Based Violence

Monday, November 13

12 p.m.

Room 1008

From the Ashes Screening and Discussion

Thursday, November 16

6 p.m.

Room 204

The Innocence Project's Impact After 25 Years: Law, Policy and the Courts

Friday, November 17

9 a.m.

Jacob Burns Moot Courtroom

The Business of Luxury: Can Companies Like Authentic Brands Group, Marquee Brands or Global Brands Group Become the Next LVMH?

Tuesday, December 5

6:30 p.m.

Jacob Burns Moot Courtroom