

CARDOZO
Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

LARC @ Cardozo Law

Cardozo Law News Brief 2023

Cardozo Law News Brief

6-9-2023

Cardozo Law News Brief: June 9, 2023

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2023>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, "Cardozo Law News Brief: June 9, 2023" (2023). Cardozo Law News Brief 2023. 19.

<https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2023/19>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Cardozo Law News Brief at LARC @ Cardozo Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cardozo Law News Brief 2023 by an authorized administrator of LARC @ Cardozo Law. For more information, please contact larc@yu.edu.

Cardozo Celebrates the Class of 2023

“Graduating from law school is always an impressive achievement,” Dean Melanie Leslie told the class during her address. “But what this class has accomplished today is momentous.”

The Class of 2023’s Achievements Celebrated at Pre-Commencement Awards Ceremony

Faculty members proudly celebrated and honored 55 students from the Class of 2023 at a morning ceremony before commencement on Monday.

Nargis Baran Flees Afghanistan and Starts a New Chapter at Cardozo

“I am so grateful to everyone at Cardozo and to those who helped us escape,” Baran said. “My wish is to continue working in education and to someday have a role in the spread of democracy in the world.”

Visiting Professor Dmytro Vovk Quoted in Newsweek About Religious Persecutions in Russia's Occupied Territories of Ukraine

Vovk said that "at least 26" religious leaders had been killed in Ukraine since the war began on Feb. 24, 2022, while "many others" had been "detained, tortured or subjected to humiliating treatment."

Professor Kate Shaw Discusses Recent SCOTUS Strike Ruling on Her Award-Winning Podcast, ‘Strict Scrutiny’

Shaw and her co-hosts, Professor Leah Litman of the University of Michigan Law School and Professor Melissa Murray of New York University School of Law, discussed the recent 8-1 ruling in Glacier Northwest, Inc. v. Teamsters, and how it shouldn't deter labor organizers, on the most recent episode of their podcast series that discusses the Supreme Court in an in-depth and accessible way.

Professors Matthew Wansley and Sam Weinstein's Paper on Predatory Pricing Referenced in Bloomberg

“Predatory pricing is a strategy firms use to suppress competition,” Wansley and Weinstein write in ‘Venture Predation.’ “The predator prices below its own costs to force its rivals out of the market. After they exit, the predator raises its prices to supracompetitive levels and recoups the cost of predation.”

Faculty Scholarship & News

- Professor Emmanuel Hiram Arnaud's essay, “A More Perfect Union for Whom?” was published in the Columbia Law Review Forum.
- Professor Rebecca Ingber has been appointed to the Advisory Committee on International Law for the State Department Office of the Legal Adviser.
- Professor Kate Levine presented her new paper idea, “Police Accomplices,” at the Law of Policing Conference at the University of Chicago on June 7-8.
- University Professor Michel Rosenfeld will discuss his book A Pluralist Theory of Constitutional Justice at Birkbeck’s School of Law at the University of London on June 21.
- Professor Anthony Sebok spoke about “Public Nuisance and the Apportionment of Responsibility” at the Clifford Symposium on Tort Law and Social Policy at DePaul College of Law on June 8.
- Visiting Professor Dmytro Vovk co-authored a blog post on religious freedom and LGBTQI+ rights for OpenGlobalRights.