FINDING A HOME IN AMERICA: CARDOZO LAW SCREENING OF REFUGE "HOMBRES NUEVOS"

Monday, January 28, 6:00 PM
Moot Court Room (MCR)
Cardozo School of Law
55 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10003

Episode six of the AT&T original series REFUGE tells the story of former Cardozo Law instructor Luis Mancheno. Now an award-winning attorney in New York City, Mancheno survived anti-gay conversion therapy and a murder attempt in his native Ecuador before receiving asylum in the United States. Mancheno now fights for the rights and dignity of other refugees in the U.S. as an immigration attorney. The episode includes coverage of Mancheno's fight against President Trump's "Muslim Ban" in 2017.

Cardozo Professor of Law Kate Shaw will interview Mancheno and moderate a Q&A following the screening.

*Attendance satisfies P*Law summer stipend requirement: Bring your P*Law Passport!*

Brought to you by the Kathryn O. Greenberg Immigration Justice Clinic at the Cardozo School of Law and Cardozo OUTlaw, the law school's queer student association.
