Cardozo Law Revue Activity Meeting: Join the Cast!

We are currently cooking up comic scenes and songs for the community's entertainment.
Now is the perfect time to join.

If you are interested (a) to show off a talent, (b) to join the cast for the Spring Semester, (c) to contribute writing, (d) to volunteer as crew, or (e) to just otherwise avert scholastic meltdown, join us for skit staging, singing, and improv.

Be a part of Cardozo's longstanding tradition, and most importantly, have fun!

Today at
Room 423
7 pm

Food will be served.

Join RELA (Real Estate Law Association) for:
A Discussion with Adam Leitman Bailey

When: Monday, February 25th, 12-1pm
Where: Room 303

What: A discussion on how to achieve success in the real estate field, how to be an effective summer associate (and how to land the job), and current issues & trends in the real estate market.

Mediterranean cuisine will be served. We hope to see you there!

Zionism & Feminism: Please join LDB for Human Rights for our first general body meeting of the semester. Guest speaker and Cardozo alum, Amanda Berman, will be joining us to discuss her founding of the Zioness Movement, a new initiative empowering and activating Zionists on the progressive left to stand proudly in social justice spaces as Jews and Zionists. Sushi lunch will be served!

Room: 102
Date: Monday February 25th

Time: 12-1pm

Are you interested in negotiation, mediation or arbitration?

Do you want to hone your speaking skills?

Archiving and Preservation of Video Games and the Law

February 27
12pm to 1:30pm
Room 407

The Interactive Entertainment Law Society will be hosting a video-chat with Andrew Borman, the Digital Games Curator at The Strong: National Museum of Play, about his experiences in video game preservation.

Learn about how video games and other digital media may be preserved for future generations, why such preservation is important, and discuss what practical and legal challenges exist in the field. Video game preservation was in the news last year when the Library of Congress passed a fair use DMCA exception which made it easier for archivists to preserve and share older video games. Stop by to learn more about these digital archiving practices!

The Heyman Center on Corporate Law & Governance, the Jacob Burns Center for Ethics in the Practice of Law, and the Stein Center at Fordham Law School present:

Avoiding Ethical Pitfalls in a Complicated Business Environment

Date: Wednesday, February 27, 2019

Time: 6:00 - 8:00 pm

Location: Moot Court Room

Registration is required

Please join us for a lively panel discussion covering ethical issues attorneys face in our current complicated business environment. The panel will address a variety of timely questions and issues, including whether attorneys can ethically tape conversations; what the Rules of Professional Conduct say about attorneys entering into financing arrangements with non-lawyer litigation funders; what conflicts law firms and lateral hires face; the issues attorneys face when entering into common interest agreements; and whether limited waivers of the attorney-client privilege are ever effective.

Moderator

Professor Mike Stone, Senior Fellow, Director of Compliance, The Heyman Center at Cardozo School of Law

Panelists

George Canellos, Partner and Global Head, Litigation & Arbitration Group, Milbank
Bruce Green, Louis Stein Chair of Law and Director, Stein Center, Fordham Law School
Nicole Hyland, Partner, Frankfurt Kurnit
Harry Weiss, Partner, WilmerHale

NY CLE: Approved for 2.0 transitional/non-transitional New York State CLE credits in the category "Ethics & Professionalism".

The Cardozo FAME Center and the Cardozo Fashion Law Society invite you to join us for our Fashion Law Symposium on February 26th from 9 AM to 5:30 PM
in the Moot Court Room & Lobby!

The Symposium will emphasize those aspects in the fashion industry that are rapidly changing, such as the influencing shift from magazines to social media; wearable technology and the use of AI to improve consumers' experience with fashion; sustainability initiatives; and retail changes from brick-and-mortar/department stores to e-commerce-with the legal perspective in mind.

We look forward to seeing you there!

What's New in IP

Join Cardozo's Intellectual Property Law Society in an interactive panel. Young IP practitioners will talk about what is new in their field, how they got to their positions, and answer any questions students may have.

The Cardozo Intellectual Property and Information Law Program Presents James Boyle, William Neal Reynolds Professor of Law at Duke Law School, the 2019 Distinguished Lecturer in IP

"Is the Internet Over?! (Again?)"

In his talk, Prof. Boyle explores and evaluates predictions about the Internet from the 1990s, and where cyberspace is heading in the next 20 years.

James Boyle is the William Neal Reynolds Professor of Law at Duke Law School and founder of the Center for the Study of the Public Domain. His most recent books are Theft: A History of Music, a graphic novel about musical borrowing through history, and Intellectual Property: Law and the Information Society, both co-authored with Jennifer Jenkins. Professor Boyle was one of the founding Board Members of Creative Commons and of Science Commons and served on the board of the Public Library of Science. His work on digital civil liberties was honored with a Pioneer Award by The Electronic Frontier Foundation.

A reception will follow the presentation.

Claiming Truth: Heresy and Blasphemy in Religion, Law and Literature Colloquium
March 3-4, 2019
Cardozo School of Law, Moot Court Room
Sponsored by Cardozo Law Institute in Holocaust and Human Rights (CLIHHR)

Prosecutions based on alleged violations of "anti-blasphemy laws" continue to grab international headlines, as evidenced by Asia Bibi's acquittal by the Pakistani judiciary. But Pakistan is not alone. Today, dozens of states across the globe still have anti-blasphemy laws on the books, and a good number continue to enforce those laws. Several others, like Ireland, have decided to get rid of their anti-blasphemy laws altogether.

Please join the Cardozo Law Institute in Holocaust and Human Rights (CLIHHR) to further explore the motivations behind these laws, their consequences, and the challenges faced by those working to abolish them. The colloquium will convene three expert panels to further discuss these issues and will feature a keynote address by Professor Deborah Lipstadt.

The New York Commission on Prosecutorial Conduct: Background and Next Steps

New Location: Third Floor Lounge
12:00 - 1:00 pm
Lunch served

The creation of the Commission on Prosecutorial Conduct in 2018 makes New York the first state with a separate body to address complaints about the conduct of its prosecutors. This panel will discuss the constitutional, legal, and policy issues raised by the legislation creating the Commission. We also will discuss the lobbying effort to pass the legislation, the litigation that is pending challenging it, and recent amendments to the law.

Panelists:

- Hon. Robert S. Smith (Ret.), Partner, Friedman Kaplan Seiler & Adelman and Former Associate Judge of the New York State Court of Appeals
- Mylan L. Denerstein, Partner, Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and Former Counsel to New York Governor Andrew Cuomo
