The Cardozo Criminal Defense Clinic,
The Filmmakers Legal Clinic and The Perlmutter Center for Legal Justice present a screening of the short documentary film

Fear of Motion

Monday, October 28
Doors open at 6:00 p.m.
Jacob Burns Moot Court Room

“A young man on the grip of his probation, attending a therapy session to navigate his survivor guilt after getting his best friend incarcerated. The film explores familiar themes in black politics, regarding the struggles and circumstances of people under maximum sentences. It includes the stigmatization and ineffective rehabilitation that contributes to the corruption of the probation system.”

There will be a panel conversation with Judge Marva Brown '06 and others on the history of probation, the real world implications of a probation sentence, and suggestions on how to improve the experience of those persons who receive probation sentences.
