

CARDOZO

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

LARC @ Cardozo Law

Cardozo Law News Brief 2020

Cardozo Law News Brief

11-24-2020

Cardozo Law News Brief: November 24, 2020

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2020>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, "Cardozo Law News Brief: November 24, 2020" (2020). Cardozo Law News Brief 2020. 37.

<https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/news-brief-2020/37>

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Cardozo Law News Brief at LARC @ Cardozo Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cardozo Law News Brief 2020 by an authorized administrator of LARC @ Cardozo Law. For more information, please contact larc@yu.edu.

CARDOZO LAW

Cardozo Law News Brief

Spotlight on News from the Cardozo Community

In the News

Professor Kate Shaw Speaks to ABC News on Supreme Court Reform

"Roberts' goal seems to be to keep the court out of the political fray, and with this speech Alito seems to be trying to plunge the court right into the center of it," Shaw said of Justice Alito's recent speech made to a conservative legal group. Shaw also spoke on the likelihood of SCOTUS taking on a GOP petition to review election results, noting that, "My guess is that they're waiting to see what happens with the election, and then when it's crystal clear it won't matter, the justices will deny [the petition]."

Read More

Professor Jessica Roth Comments in The Washington Post on Trump's Post-Presidency Legal Battles

Professor Roth said the lawsuits related to President's Trump's personal and business-related cases could drag on for years. "The sheer number of them makes the task of dealing with them really daunting," Roth said. "And none of those actors are bound by the decisions made by the other one."

Read More

Cardozo Students Compete Virtually in Annual Paulsen Competition

Cardozo's annual Monrad G. Paulsen competition, sponsored by the Moot Court Honor Society, was held virtually this year, but that didn't stop 2L and 3L students from competing in the oral advocacy tournament.

Read More

BENJAMIN N. CARDOZO SCHOOL OF LAW
Moot Court Honor Society

Students Reflect on At-Home Learning During the Pandemic

Cardozo rose to the challenges of the pandemic with enhanced classroom technology and expanded virtual opportunities to connect with faculty members. Our students and faculty have demonstrated resilience and flexibility. Read what students have to say.

Read More

Faculty Scholarship & News

- Professor Michelle Greenberg-Kobrin spoke at the The New York State Multicultural Creativity Summit hosted by the Motion Picture Association on November 17.
- Professor Michael Herz discussed fraudulent comments in federal agency rulemaking on a panel as part of the 2020 Administrative Law Conference hosted by the ABA's Section of Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice on November 19.
- Professor Barbara Kolsun will chair the Luxury Law Summit on December 3, sponsored by Global Legal Post.
- Professor Anthony Sebok presented "Litigation Finance As a Subject of Uniform Law Treatment" to the NYC Bar Association Committee on Commercial Law and Uniform State Laws on November 19.