The Brandeis Center Presents

Religious Accommodation in the Workplace

A Conversation About Groff v. DeJoy, to be Argued Before SCOTUS this April

With the Honorable Rory I. Lancman
Director of Corporate Initiatives and Senior Counsel at the Louis D. Brandeis Center for Human Rights Under Law

Monday, February 27th, 12:00 p.m., Room 420
Chinese food will be served

Please join us as we hear about this important Supreme Court case that has the potential to greatly expand the ability of religiously observant employees to not have to choose between their faith or their job.

The Honorable Rory I. Lancman currently serves as the Director of Corporate Initiatives and Senior Counsel at the Louis D. Brandeis Center for Human Rights Under Law, where he oversees the Center's efforts to combat antisemitism in the workplace through training and legal action. Mr. Lancman previously served in the New York City Council, chairing the committee with jurisdiction over the civil and criminal justice system, and in the New York State Assembly, where he served on the judiciary committee. He is a graduate of Queens College of the City University of New York and Columbia Law School.
